This nomination form will be the basis for selecting the recipient of the Conservation Woman of the Year Award. The award seeks to recognize a woman who has made significant contributions to conservation and the improvement of Iowa's natural resources conservation through achievements on her own land, her career or voluntary efforts.

The Federal Women's Program sponsors this award.

The following criteria shall be used during selection:

- Self-nominations will be accepted.
- A woman can win once every five years.
- Must be an Iowa resident or own land in Iowa.
- Eligible women include farmers, landowners, agency and non-profit staff, policy makers, volunteers, etc.
- Current members of FWP are not eligible
